

I really love enjoying outdoor fires and but what I do not like is how much of a Hassel keeping an outdoor fire can be. I get tired of having to move the logs around and poking at the fire to try and get it to burn better constantly. Most of my trouble with building an outdoor fire stem from not properly staking the firewood so that it can get accurate air flow and the fact that I am not patient enough to build a teepee with my firewood. I'm way more excited to enjoy the fire with my friends and family around the fire than I am getting it going.

I'm Melissa from NorthlineExpress and I'm very excited to introduce you to the FIREase incinergrate which is so easy to use you'll never complain about building a fire again. This grate allows me to get fires started quickly and easily and maintain the traditional teepee style throughout the entire fire!

The IncinerGrate Collapsible fire pit grate will help your fire burn longer and stronger than regular fires and that fire will provide more warmth since the fire is burning better and more efficiently by burning with a hotter core for better combustion. It's easy all you have to do is place dry starter material & kindling in the center, place the grate over the kindling and then place small firewood around the grate and light it. As the fire gets going, add your larger firewood pieces. Now sit back and relax because there's basically no maintaining your fire required with this grate and adding firewood couldn't be easier!

All these advantages translate to more time with friends and family and less time tending the fire. Plus, you can take them anywhere you go because they will work in portable and permanent outdoor fire pits. Made from 1/2" steel bar stock, it only weighs 5 lbs., and it can be moved from fire location to fire location as needed. This is the collapsible version so it breaks down into two pieces making storage easy as well.

So if you're looking for a way to build a fire that loves to burn then then check out the collapsible FIREase Incinergrate. It's the Perfect time to pick one up because from 8/1-8/31/2014 when you purchase any FIREase Incinergrate you will receive 15 FREE Supercedar Fire Starters.
