

Hi I'm Melissa from NorthlineExpress! Do you have an area that you just cannot enjoy because there just isn't any shade? If you like to spend relaxed time outdoors, you are exposed to the harmful portions of the sun rays, such as Ultraviolet (UV) rays. This is where sunshade sails come to our help. These items protect our bodies from the unwanted exposure to UV rays. Shade sails are not only attractive but they effectively protect an area from the sun without giving a boxed in or restricted feeling. They are an excellent alternative to awnings, umbrellas, carports, and patio enclosures.

Let's talk now about the top 4 benefits of shade sails:

1 Protection from Unwanted Sunrays

These sails are meant for guarding us from the ultraviolet rays of the sun. Sunlight, especially in summer, makes us feel good. But the UV rays are harmful to our bodies. This is the reason why we need some protection from these unwanted rays. This is where sun shade sails come to our rescue. They allow breezes and moisture through while keeping the sun out and Block 85% of UV Rays!

2 Flexible to suit almost any application:

Shade sails come in all shapes and sizes and can be customized to suit almost any application. For some applications one large sail is best while for others it's best to integrate multiple smaller sails in an overlapping pattern. Whether you're looking for sun protection for your pool, patio, BBQ area, driveway, courtyard, entrance, veranda, playground, sandpit or car park, an expertly designed shade sail is perfect. Shade sails are equally good for domestic and commercial applications.

3 Cost Effective:

One of the biggest advantages is affordability, durability, safety, and aesthetically pleasing sheltered areas for the fraction of the cost compared to wood, steel structures, solid-roof wood or block-framed covers.

4 Ventilation for extra cooling:

Most shade sails are made from permeable (mesh-type) material that allows airflow. Using different shapes and angles, an experienced designer will design a sail structure that gives you maximum protection from the sun while allowing breezes to flow through your environment. This means your entertaining area will stay cool even when the BBQ is firing.

Shade sails transform a simple outdoor setting into a dynamic, eye-catching area. Their remarkably simple yet stylish appearance is used in both residential and commercial applications. So Stop avoiding your yard for fear of baking in the sun! Shade sails offer protection from the sun in a variety of shapes styles and sizes to suit everyone!
